

Lauren Minuk

Public Program Coordinator, City of Calgary, Waste & Recycling Services

Lauren works with businesses and organizations to help them reconsider the waste they send to landfill and help them understand the waste and recycling landscape better. Lauren has been working in the waste and recycling industry with businesses for approximately five years, previously having worked for Green Calgary (an environmental non-profit organization). Lauren has experience with waste auditing and measurement. She is passionate about adult environmental education and believes that businesses are a key player in improving our environment. Lauren holds a BA in Sociology from the University of Calgary and is currently pursuing her MBA.
